KNOWBE4 SECURITY AWARENESS TRAINING STANDING OFFER FOR GUERNSEY AFFILIATES

The Cyber Security Consulting Group at Guernsey helps clients across the country design and execute effective and cost effective cyber security programs. Our services include Risk Analysis, Audit, Penetration testing, AlienVault™ SIEM support, Incident Management, Training, Documentation and other services.

We feel that end user training is a very important element of an organization's cyber security risk management program, helping to mitigate risks associated with email phishing and other scams. We have found that KnowB4 creates a solid platform for organizations to train and test end users in cyber security. This platform is effective out of the box or can be customized to meet your organization's specific risks. We are encouraging our clients to utilize KnowB4 as the basis for their cyber security training program because we have found that they provide exceptional value for the cost.

We feel so strongly that end user cyber security training, including phishing testing, is essential to an effective cyber security program, that we have worked with KnowB4 to offer a 25% discount to new customers. Guernsey accepts no financial benefit for referrals and there is no obligation to Guernsey.

If your organization is struggling with how to improve your cyber security posture and have limited resources, our consultants are interested in talking with you about how we can help deliver a risk-based approach to improving security.

If you contact us, we will provide you an Open Source Intelligence Report, which will show you what information about your company is available on the Internet and "Darkweb." This report will show what information is available to bad actors who can use it to attack your systems and socially engineer your employees. If you are interested in discussing cyber security and receiving an Open Source Intelligence report on your organization, please contact Tim Fawcett 405-416-8182 timothy.fawcett@guernsey.us
